

Title Goes Here

Mat L.

1. Level 1 Heading

This is my first paragraph. I don't want it indented because it's the first paragraph. Also, even though this text is on a new line, it won't be in a new paragraph.

This is my second paragraph. It's got an indent because I used the .PP macro. Notice that even though I wrote the macro .PP, it won't treat it as a macro because it's not the first word on the line. The next sentence is important. I'm putting this in bold because it's important. Now, I want something to be in italics. This is in italics because I want it to be.

- List Item 1
- List item 2
- List item 3
 - Subitem 1
 - Subitem 2

1.1. Level 2 Heading

Some more text here. I might want to make some underlined text for emphasis. Let's do that for a new sentence. Underlined for emphasis! We can also put text in a box for a similar effect. Let's box a sentence. Here's a box in a box.

Level 1 Unnumbered Heading

This is a new section without the numbering. Maybe I want a box quote. I can put a paragraph within an indent block for that kind of effect.

We don't have to only use indenting for lists! We can also use them for quotes or multi-line citations.

Whatever you think needs the indentation, you can indent it.

Now we're back to our normal paragraph. That's pretty cool!